What do you get when you combine a smokin' 15-piece swing band, an amazing jazz vocalist and two swing dancers in the incredible acoustics of a beautiful and historic space? You get one fabulous afternoon of upbeat, joyful and toe-tappin' music and dance. Josh Lee and the Extended Family is a Philadelphia-based ensemble that authentically celebrates the music and the dance of the swing era. Composed of the hottest jazz musicians in the city, this wildly popular ensemble continues the 100-year tradition of big band music, but with a modern/contemporary twist. Josh Lee is a grammy-winning saxophonist, composer and arranger, faculty at Temple and Villanova Universities, and a member of the world-renowned Count Basie Orchestra.

Kick-off November by kicking up your heels with an afternoon of swinging jazz!
